THE LEGALIZED PRIMARY ELEC-TION TAKES PLACE TO-DAY.

All Democrats Shou'd Go to the Polls and Cast Their Ballots-Much Enthuslasm is Being Shown,

The primary election for the nomination of candidates for the city's general offices, Board of Aldermen, members of the Common Council and members of the City Democratic Committee takes place today under the rules of the City Democratic Committee, legalized by an act of the last Legislature of Virginia, and the penalties for the violation of any of its provisions make the offender liable to heavy penalties of both fine and imprison-

A large vote will be polled, and the number cast will probably be greater than in any previous election. The contests for at least two of the principal offices are generally acknowledged to be very close, and the result will be very interesting.

A double set of judges and clerks have been provided at all of the large pre-cincts, and ample arrangements have been made for canvassing the vote by the committee at Sanger Hall, and while the vote will be uncommonly large, it is ex-pected that the result will be known at an earlier hour than usual.

THE CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS. Headquarters City Democratic Committee, 1210 east Main street, Richmond, Va., April 25, 1894. Fo the Democratic Voters of the City of Richmond:

It is the duty of all Democrats to go to the polls on the 28th and cast their wotes for the persons of their choice for the several offices to be filled at the regular election to be held on May 24, 1894. That election will simply ratify the action of the Democratic primary. The Democratic party is the dominant one in Richmond, and the representatives of its 10,- cratic party is the dominant one in Richmond, and the representatives of its 10.000 voters will be selected at the primary. The will of the people as expressed at the policy is public opinion. This must and shall be respected. The right to vote is not a natural right, but is a privilege pranted by the State to individuals. Fraud and cunning are not the characteristics of high natures and great peoples. The party primary is the fountain of representative government, and impurity there will pollute the whole election. By an act of the last General Assembly of Virginia, approved February 23, 1894, the rules governing primary elections in the city of Richmond as promulgated by the Executive Committee of the party were legalized.

All of the requirements of the law have

All of the requirements of the law have been strictly compiled with, and persons who wilfully violate them will be dealt with as ordinary criminals under the State law. The amplest provisions have been made for the preservation of the sanctity of the ballot, and no one need fear that his vote will be tampered with or the freedom of his choice disturbed.

The vote of this city is watched all

The vote of this city is watched all over the State, and all Democrats are most carnestly urged to participate in the primary so as to swell our party maflority.

The polls open at 6 A. M. and close at 7 P. M. Each individual voter should aid in the preservation of order. All can vote with the assurance that the persons receiving the largest number of votes will be declared the nominees of the Demoderate. These pominees will govern craite party. These nominees will govern the city for the next two years.

Very respectfully.

RICHMOND LODGE, NO. 10, OF THE INTERNATIONAL ORDER.

An Excellent Repast and a Flow of Oratory at Ford's Hotel_The Session of the Executive Board. Richmond Lodge, No. 10, International Order of Machinists, gave a banquet at Ford's Hotel last evening, in honor of the executive board of that order, now in session in this city. The members of the lodge, numbering over a hundred, and other guests filled a long line of tables occupying three sides of the room, and the menu was both varied and substantial. Mr. J. J. Creamer, master machinist of the Richmond lodge, and editor of the organ of the order, presided, and made a neat address of welcome and read a cordial letter of regret from Mayor Elly-

Mr. James O'Connell, grand master ma chinist; Mr. H. E. Easton, grand foreman and organizer, and the other members the board were called on and made brief speeches Mr. O'Connell said the labor organizations were not opposing capital, but that they were fighting the great monopolles who were trying to control the life work of the men, women, and children of the country; that the international machinist had but one purpose in view-to organize every machinist in the country and insure him a day's pay for a day's work. He said they now command the respect of every large manufacturing concern in the country. He counseled conservative methods and called on the members of the order to study well the question concerning their interests and to conrect the evils which beset them by their

AT GRACK-STREET BAPTISTCHURCH

Rev. Lewis D. Craddock Ordained to the Ministry_The Ceremony,

Very interesting exercises were held last evening in the lecture room of Grace-Street Baptist church when the ordination of Rev. Lewis D. Craddock to the ministry took place. A large congregation was present and attentively listened to the proceedings. The President constitution was present and attentively listened to the proceedings. The Presbytery consist-ed of Rev. William E. Hatcher, pastor of the church; Rev. Dr. Willingham, secretary of the Bap-tist Board of Foreign Misstons; Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of Leigh-Street Raptist church, and Drs. Pollard and Ryland, of Richmond College.

Dr. Hatcher stated that Mr. Craddock had been preaching in two churches of Botetourt county, which had made the request for his ordination as minister, and that for this reason the gathering had been called.

Mr. Thomas Todd, on behalf of the deacons of the church, presented the candidate to the Presbytery. He stated that the young man had been a pupil of his (the speaker's) Sunday-school class, that he subsequently graduated from Richmond College and the Baptist Seminary, at Louisville, Ky. Since then he had preached in Eotetourt county from where a call had been extended to him.

Dr. Ryland next read passages from chapters three and four of the First Epistle of St. Paul to Timothy. At the close of the reading the candidate knelt down, surrounded by the Presbytery while the congregation remained standing and Dr. Ryland offered the prayer of ordination. The Presbytery then laid hands upon him. Mr. Wright presented the candidate with a Bible, the gift of the deacons of the church. He admonished the young minister to study the Bible during his

Rev. Dr. Willingham delivered the charge to the candidate.

Dr. Pollard made an address to the ongregation. He said the great need of the world to-day was a larger number of ministers in the word of God. He mentioned as some of the qualifications which a true minister should have, that he should possess the right idea of his work; secondly, he should possess the religion and, thirdly, he should be the patron of all educational and religious movements. The exercises were brought to a close by Dr. Hatcher with giving the right hand of fellowship to the candidate. The presbytery, the deacons, and the members of the congregation then stepped forward to express their congratulations to the newly-ordained minister and his

"We've hit the nail on the head."

Doesn't anybody want anything but Black or Blue? We never saw tastes run abreast so, Clays and Cheviots, smooth or rough !-that's the only thing the majority is divided on.

It's a funny season—but we had a tip which way fashion was going to jump. Consequence is we're ready for the demand if nobody else is.
